HUMBLED BY YOUR SUPPORT

CELEBRATING OUR PAST, CHARTING OUR FUTURE

As I conclude my first full year of service to Northwest State and northwest Ohio, I am truly humbled by the support we have received from students, alumni, stakeholders and the community at large. Northwest State proudly celebrates 50 years of service to the community, and to kick off the celebration, we hosted a Fall Convocation to reflect on the milestones we have achieved, and to chart our course for the future. I have shared some highlights of the Convocation presentation below to help share our vision.

We celebrate our successful past. We focus on the key factors that meet the current needs of our community. We will adapt to meet the challenges we face in the future.

We provide access for those who struggle meeting their basic needs to use their education to provide a better life. Once a noble enterprise, it is now a vital one for our local communities to sustain their quality of life.

We have done well to meet the needs of Northwest Ohio over the last 50 years.

However, our communities are changing. We must adapt to help our communities find the workforce they need to compete in the turbulent, global, techno-driven economy that we face today.

Real change takes real time. It is hard to stay disciplined and focus in a society that demands for instant everything. However, we have our eye focused on a sustainable future... a future that meets the needs of northwest Ohio and provides sustained enrollments.

Our future can be summed up in two simple acts Serve our entire area and fulfill our whole mission. By doing those two simple things, Northwest Ohio sustains a high quality of life and NSCC remains a vibrant and sustainable organization.

PETER BECK AUTOMATIC FEED

Peter Beck of Automatic Feed (Napoleon) understands the importance of education and hard work. A second-generation business owner himself, Beck firmly has his finger on the pulse of northwest Ohio. Beck is a visible ally to the College, serving as the NSCC Foundation Board chairperson, but his influence goes far beyond the meeting room. Beck was also instrumental in bringing the classroom to the workplace for area high school students, setting up offsite training at his Napoleon facility to help introduce engineering concepts to students, while also building a pipeline for a future workforce.

For our communities to sustain and grow, companies like Automatic Feed need skilled workers to fill vital needs within the company. Northwest State Community College is a critical partner to our region's success because they have been on the cutting edge of training and education for 50 years. The College continues to work closely with business leaders from all industries to make sure today's and tomorrow's skills are continuously added to the curriculum, so the students who graduate are ready to help companies like Automatic Feed advance into the 21st century. It's an important cycle - those graduates help our companies grow, and it helps provide them with family-sustaining wages, which helps the individual, the family, and ultimately the community. I am thankful for Northwest State Community College.

FROM YOUR COMMUNITY COLLEGE

YOUR GENEROSITY - GREEN CARPET EVENT

The Northwest State Community College Foundation welcomed over 200 friends from the community to its annual Green Carpet Event, "Denim & Diamonds." The successful endeavor helped raise over $70,000 toward student scholarships while celebrating the 2018 Making a Difference Award winners.

The star-studded evening included a musical performance by Kerry Patrick Clark, and a fun stage show featuring "Magic With Eli." Gourmet food stations and a silent auction rounded out the festivities, as the Auditorium and surrounding areas were decorated in the event's "Denim & Diamonds" theme. Student speaker Brandon Allen shared his powerful story of overcoming significant adversity, and how the education received at Northwest State has helped him to become a better person, husband and father.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE AWARDS

The common denominator of the 2018 Making a Difference Award winners was giving. Giving of time, passion, commitment, expertise and heart – all for the betterment of our community. The 2018 recipients were Ed and Carol Nofziger (individual), Parkview Physicians Group (business) and Quadco Rehabilitation Center (organization).

IMPROVING COMMUNITIES BY PROVIDING STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

The Northwest State Community College Foundation eclipsed all previous records by awarding in excess of $600,000 to 310 deserving students from communities throughout northwest Ohio at its 2018 Scholarship Awards Event in April. The record-setting totals for dollars awarded and students receiving awards indicates the ever-growing need for student financial aid, and ongoing generous support of the NSCC Foundation. Scholarship Night brings students and donors together to celebrate students' success, providing scholarship recipients with an opportunity to personally thank those donors who make the scholarships possible.

"Each year, our community comes together to show its generosity to our students," said Robbin Wilcox, NSCC Foundation Director. "That generosity fills our hearts with great joy, because it means we can continue to help students achieve their goals through a NSCC education. Our students do amazing things every day, and the education and training they receive at NSCC can help put them in a position to get great jobs with local companies and make a big impact on our community for generations to come."

FRED STROBEL LEGACY DONOR

Fred served on the Northwest State Community College Foundation Board with the Finance, Scholarship, and Planned giving committees. Fred had a passion for helping others and was dedicated to the Foundation's growth and making sure scholarships were a priority.

Fred was a Silent Giant who worked behind the scenes doing research, making calls, inviting people to campus and making financial contributions all because of his love for education and the opportunities it gives to students attending NSCC.

He was a great mentor to all the Foundation Board members and also a great cheerleader. His dedication and commitment have helped to establish the NSCC Foundation in a financial position that enables them to award the substantial dollars to the many deserving students. Fred had a strong influence on others encouraging them to do their very best!
